Bossy 'e' is when the 'e' on the end of a word bosses the preceding vowel, turning it into a long vowel sound (ie the vowel says its name instead of its sound).

The bossy 'e' is actually silent - we see it, but don't say it.
eg: rode - we say the letter 'o' in the word, but the 'e' is silent.

Read out loud the following words and circle the ones that follow the bossy 'e' rule:

hide

time

paper

slime

love

made

cafe

cake

stripe

horse

ate

are

Circle the correct spelling for the word that matches the picture:

mad

lime
lim

grap
grape

ic
ice

rose
ros

nos
nose
